

She Is Beautiful

Anouk

See that girl, see her standing in the corner
On her own, scarred inside, she's a loner
Nobody can hear her crying at night
And see that all her smiles are tears
That she wears a mask to hide all her lies
To comfort all the fears

But when the sun starting to fade
It doesn't matter anyway
'Cause tonight all the men who strip her tell her

That she is beautiful
And she is beautiful
And she is beautiful
She is beautiful
So beautiful
That she is beautiful

But she's a lonely girl with cold hard eyes
Who doesn't know what's right
Beyond any doubt, wants to break out
And live another life
I'm not saying it won't be very easy
But you have to understand
All she needs is someone to set her
And take her heart with gentle hands

But when the sun starting to fade
It doesn't matter anyway
'Cause tonight all the men who strip her tell her

That she is beautiful
That she is beautiful,
She is beautiful yeah, yeah
She is beautiful
So beautiful
She is beautiful

That she is beautiful
That she is beautiful,
She is beautiful yeah, yeah
She is beautiful
So beautiful
She is beautiful
