Tom Waits

I was dreaming last night A figment of my brain On the downtown train And we had nowhere to go

So we got off to take a walk In the pouring rain You said you rode it once And you would ride it again Please take me with you

Tom waits for the morning train To take us away Me and mr. Tom Waits Can't wait no more

I'm wrapped around your finger Two fingers on my lips No need to speak Cause it's all in your eyes

When they turned out the lights They gave us one for the road We headed for the tracks And never looked back This could never be real

Tom waits for the morning train To take us away Me and mr. Tom Waits Can't wait no more Can't wait no more On the downtown train Me and mr. Tom Waits
