

Who Cares

Anouk

Did you ever wake up in the morning
With a freight-train running through your head
An empty whiskey bottle by your pillow
And a burned out unfinished cigarette
The night went up in smoke
Life is but a joke man
But I see nobody laughing

Did you ever live a day
Like the next day would never come
Blood's dripping on the floor, but who cares
Who needs you anyway
You're a stranger to yourself
And this ain't no joke man
But I can't stop laughing

Greedy, angry people make me
Run around in circles backwards
Down the lonely road that keeps me
Run around in circles

How I want to try again
Excuse me can you lead me
I just want to try again
Excuse me can you lead the way

Just take me by the hand
How I want to

Did you ever find yourself drowning
In a dark and crowded bar
The barman keeps on pouring and you're kissing everyone
The night will never end
'Cause my horse is still saddled up
That's why I am still laughing

Greedy, angry people make me
Run around in circles backwards
Down the lonely road that keeps me
Run around in circles
