

Glorious

Anthony Evans

Who was there
When you put planets in their place
Who was there
When you gave boundaries to the waves

When the dawn took it's first breath
And the stars sang of Your greatness
And the universe cried out to You

Your name is glorious
Your reign victorious
Nothing compares to You
Nothing compares to You

Your power unbreakable
Your throne unshakable
Nothing compares to You
Nothing compares to You

Ooh

Who was there
In the silence of that grave
Who was there
All hope was one heart beat away

But then you took, that first breath
And trampled over death
The keys of hell were in Your hand

Your name is glorious
Your reign victorious
Nothing compares to You
Nothing compares to You

Your power unbreakable
Your throne unshakable
Nothing compares to You
Nothing compares to You

What on earth is like Your glory
What on earth is like Your glory
What on earth is like Your glory
What on earth is like Your glory Lord

Whoa

Your name is glorious
Your reign victorious
Nothing compares to You
Nothing compares to You

Your power unbreakable
Your throne unshakable
Nothing compares to You
Nothing compares to You

Your name is glorious
Nothing compares to You
Nothing compares to You

Your power unbreakable
Nothing compares to You

Your name is glorious
Nothing compares
