

Talk To You

Anthony Stewart Head

It lasts for a heartbeat
But it's such a feeling of being one
When we talk on the phone.
You make me complete,
You make me feel connected
To the earth beneath my feet.
You make me laugh and
You've helped me to cry
You've shared all of yourself with me.
You've shown me life
You've taught me, you let me see
What's real.

Whatever would I be without you in my life
Without the warmth of you in my heart?
Wherever would I be without the light you give me
Without the thought of you in my arms?

And all I can do
Is wait until the next time
That I hear your sweet voice on the line.
And I'll feel whole again
You'll bring me home again
'Cause all that I am is for you.
