Back in Year Zero

Antidote

They throw bombs on other countries And they fight another race But this world is all we have It's not a toy that you can waste

So as long as people kill each other In war or on the chair People will die innocent Because no-one can judge fair