

Different Worlds

Antidote

I don't like the feeling of reality
Whenever I don't want it it is chasing me
One moment you're alive, the next you're a machine
So full of energy, it makes me wanna scream

I live in different worlds or so it seems
One is to survive, the other holds my dreams
No matter how I try they just won't mix
But I'm gonna get through I'm gonna get my kicks

I'll live the life, the life I wanna lead
I'll lick my wounds, I will no longer bleed
I'll leave my troubles and worries far behind
No one can take away this state of mind!

Safety in numbers safety in pins
This is where the good times begin
