Antidote

No!

We got rich on their expense Exploited land and people Now they need a helping hand All they had we took away Now they knock on our door But we slam it in their face

Why should we stop them I will not stop them

Nobody wants to be poor Be on the run for hunger or live a life in war Do they have to beg us on their knees? There should always be room for strangers and refugees!