

A Place in the Sun

Antimatter

From a place up high it's been decreed
That crimes against your God shall set you free
For all the holy men will take a seat
And advocate the cause with apathy

And if you make enough mess when the working day is done
You're guaranteed a place in the sun

If the plates were laid out differently
In your honoured place I'd rather be
So if you hesitate or lose belief, just believe
And think of all the cunts that you'll receive

And if you make enough mess when you murder number one
You're guaranteed a place in the sun