

I don't watch the news, I don't read the papers. It's all the same. It's not the truth.

Shit on every station.

Freedom of the press means freedom to deceive

With all their twisted information used to control and manipulate the population

They tell us communism is running rampant and threatening our society

They install that fear to support their increasing military

Because they're in competition for control of the third world so they

Can exploit it's people for lots of money

Open your eyes: Look and see

And when your television is your only form of information

And when you believe all it's a saying about the actions of this nation

You'll find no truth, just empty words

Nothing at all is what you've learned

And while your being misinformed

The actions of your government are ignored.
