

No Time

Anuheia

Was waiting for my world to change
To finally feel like me again
Vertical rainbows cross the sky, and I barely even question why
Too caught up in life to live it, why?

I'm simply searching for the truth
Honesty, no need for proof
Left to crying made me see, the one who's losing would be me
Never wanted that to be

But there's no time, better than now
There's no time better than now

I change my hair with the moon
I change my mind if the breeze is blue
Left to crying made me see, the one who's losing would be me
Never wanted that to be

But there's no time, better than now
There's no time better than now

You gave yourself to me and I took all my time, drug you along
Now feels this way to me, and I'm resisting cause it feels so wrong
This just stings for me, it's hurting me but making me so strong

Time, time, time (3x)
Please heal me

You're in my mind all the time
Every setting sun, every sunrise
Remember this when we are through
When you think of me and you, know that I'll always adore you

But there's no time, better than now
There's no time better than now
There's no time, no, there's no time
Oh, there's no time
Better than now (3x)
Oh
