

Through with You

Anvil

I trusted your intention, I believed in the things you say
I thought you were my friend and figured you would stay
I gave you what I could but I could never give enough
I felt your empty pain when the going got so tough

See you next Tuesday, what I say to you
See you next Tuesday, I'm through with you
I'm through, I'm through, through with you
I'm through, I'm through, through with you

Insatiable hunger for the things that could never be
Living in a dream world and not reality
See you next Tuesday, what I say to you
See you next Tuesday, I'm through with you
I'm through, I'm through, through with you
I'm through, I'm through, through with you

I gave you my friendship of that you can't deny
Only a faint memory until the day I die
The end is a new beginning, forward you must go
Only time will tell who is friend or who is foe
See you next Tuesday, what I say to you
See you next Tuesday, I'm through with you
I'm through, I'm through, through with you
I'm through, I'm through, through with you
