

Josie, is this right for your heart?
Able you shape those moves from your thoughts
Your price and turning, go hand in hand
That's something that no one can understand

And if you want to be friends with me
You know I've seen the spot lights
And I want to see your amalgamation

Under these lights you're locked in time
You know, there's no stage fright
And I can't believe how your agile bending mends

Josie, is this right for your heart?
Able you shape those moves from your thoughts
Your price and turning go hand in hand
That's something that no one can understand
