Just For A Moment

Just for a moment Everything I treasured was gone Just for a moment I faced my life alone

Oh how I love you

Just for a moment The world was full of pain Just for a moment My luck had finally run out

Oh how I love you

The same thing that blew us together Might blow us apart So keep a piece of me precious And close to your heart

Just for a moment All of my nightmares came true Just for a moment My heart was broken in two

Oh how I need you Oh how I'd miss you Oh how I love you Aqualung
