You Turn Me Around

Aqualung

The end, it was the end
The sirens were pulling him down
And his heart was so cold
So very cold, you'd believe it might never have beat.

When the sun sets around me,
My daydreams confound me,
And the long night surrounds me,
You turn me around.

And you; she was there too Drowning and wanting it over. And her hope was all lost All hope was lost Given up and never again

When the sun sets around me,
My daydreams confound me,
And the long night surrounds me,
You turn me around.

But watch as fingertips touch And the life floods in And they swim to the sun

Oh, and the long night surrounds me You turn me around

I won't let you down I won't let you down You turn me around
