

Underwater

Architecture in Helsinki

Underwater, underwater, underwater
Underwater, underwater, underwater, oh
Underwater, underwater, underwater
Underwater, underwater, underwater, oh

Look both ways when you leave the building
The wrath of millions of thieves lies disguised
While the children of makeshift hills
Let the code of silence repeat sixteen times

When we get delayed
Can we cast a line towards anyone dismayed?
Can we go it alone say, say, say?

Caught me listening to water dripping
From those old lips to a town where its dry
When you leave don't say
That anyone here will be thinking in modern ways
Can we go it alone say, say, say?

Look both ways when you leave the building
The wrath of millions of thieves lies disguised

Underwater, underwater, underwater
Underwater, underwater, underwater, oh
Underwater, underwater, underwater
Underwater, underwater, underwater, oh

Here underwater we're down
Here underwater way down
Here underwater we're down, down

Here underwater we're down
Here underwater way down
Here underwater we're down, down

Here underwater we're down
Here underwater way down
Here underwater we're down, down

Here underwater we're down
Here underwater way down
Here underwater we're down, down

Here underwater we're down
Here underwater way down
Here underwater we're down, down

Here underwater we're down
Here underwater way down
Here underwater we're down, down
