

End of Our Days

Archive

Holding me down
I can't believe I am drowning somehow
Fall to my knees I need peace from the sounds
Sounds are deceiving my love of your pain

Look to the crowd
Searching for something to turn us around
Love never hides when it wants to be found
All we can know is this has to be now

Say you've never seen
Something so beautiful
I am your dream
Tell me I'm everything you'll ever need
I'm for you

Time is the key
Give me your heart and you'll see what I see
Turning in circles to find what you seek
This is the feeling I want to release

Take all my pain
I'm just a soul to be lost in your haze
Take me wherever your spirit will fade
I'll be with you till the end of our days

Holding me down
I can't believe I am drowning somehow
Fall to my knees I need peace from the sounds
Sounds are deceiving my love of your pain

Look to the crowd
Searching for something to turn us around
Love never hides when it wants to be found
All we can know is this has to be now

This is the time to be taking a vow
This is the line I will cross it somehow
I'm taking the feeling I caught from your pain
And turning it all into something to gain

Hurt doesn't show when it's trying to reign
Feelings are all that we have to be sane
Running, I'm running the fight to get free
Taking the only thing that's left of me
