Neatly Folded

She folded neatly in my arms I, I had everything All that she wanted Was to love me Like no one else But I repeated myself all over again Why can't I just love Why can't I just love

Love without hurting someone and causing pain She only ever wanted to know me But I'm too selfish for that I made her doubt herself But I repeated myself all over again Why can't I just love Why can't I just love Archive
