Try a Little Tenderness

Aretha Franklin

She may be weary Women do get weary Wearing the same shabby dress And when she's weary

Try a little tenderness You know she's waiting Just anticipating things she may never possess While she's without them,

Try a little tenderness
It's not just sentimental
She has her grief and care
And a word that's soft and gentle

Makes it easier to bear You won't regret it Women don't forget it Love is their whole happiness

It's all so easy
Try a little tenderness

She may be weary Women do get weary Wearing the same shabby dress And when she's weary

Try a little tenderness You know she's waiting Just anticipating things she may never possess While she's without them

It's not just sentimental
She has her grief and care
And a word that's soft and gentle

Makes it easier to bear You won't regret it Women don't forget it Love is their whole happiness

It's all so easy
