

There's unrest in the city
There's violence in the air
A country fit for heroes
Is now one full of despair
Shootings, rapes and muggings
I see a drugs war looming ahead
No law and order, just total disorder
Old people filled with dread

Showdown must be coming
Ain't gonna take this shit no more
Joe public's got to arm himself
To settle the bloody score
Retaliation, extermination
The law is in your hands
Can't take no more, it's gone to far
Time we made a stand

Vigilante

Uproar in the papers
Outlaw in the news
Another lawless faction
Attacking whoever they choose
The Government wallows in apathy
While there's violence in the street
The innocent are sent running
While the police stare straight at defeat

Vigilante

Clockwork Orange fiction
Is now stark reality
Old ladies at their husbands graves
Get mugged for 20p
What kind of world are we living in
When kids beat a boy of two
Get out on the streets, fight the scum
The future's up to you
