

Leaving Her Alone

Ari Hest

Stay, I could've chosen to stay
At least the world wouldn't look so gray
Here, here is an empty room
Filled with an empty man
Who, dreams... of us

Whether or not I want... too
I laugh, I laugh only to forget
And if the answer was in these words
We can move on from this

There is nothing so cold
As fighting through these days
Tide to no rules

I'm leaving her alone
I'm leaving her alone
Ya here to be alone
I'm leaving her alone

Brave, What does it mean to be brave?
Does it mean that were gonna have to beg
Or should we weather the storm again
And never can say when
Is our minds that brought reality
Or is it our love
That just wont let it be

I'm leaving her alone
I'm leaving her alone
Ya here to be alone
I'm leaving her alone

Oohhh... I'm leaving her alone... Yah
