

One Track Mind

Ari Hest

My baby's got a one track mind
She never can hold out for just a little more time
Guess she ain't the steady kind
Always looking to the next thing, always trying to Cut the line
She gets to feel her hands are tied
She gets to feeling locked in, wonderin' what's on the Other side like a
Sun hidden behind grey skies
She says "I don't think I'm capable of changing
Feels like forever I've been tryin'
So if you don't wanna wait here for me
If you don't wanna wait here for me
If you don't wanna wait, then say goodbye"

My baby's got a one track mind
One that is restless
And so inclined to fly
And one that cannot entwine
With another that reads hers
So well without even trying
Something she can't deny
She says "Honey the last thing that I want here
Is to keep you drifting with the tide
So if you don't wanna wait here for me
If you don't wanna wait here for me
If you don't wanna wait
Then say goodbye

My baby's got a one track mind
She says, "I wish I could cash out
Instead of just buyin' buyin'"

Instead of just buyin' buyin'
Cause I don't think I'm capable of changing
Feels like forever I've been trying
So if you don't wanna wait here for me
If you don't wanna wait here for me
Yeah honey the last thing that I want here
Is to bring you down beneath the tide
So if you don't wanna wait here for me
If you don't wanna wait here for me
If you don't wanna wait
Then say goodbye
