

Reason To Believe

Ari Hest

The crumbling walls
Are gonna cave in tonight
And the powers that have been
They will hear our call all right

Oh I got a reason to believe

We're carving our names
In the ground for eternity
From this day forth
They're gonna know who we are

Oh I got a reason to believe

We're gonna make it out

They took all they could
And left us in disarray
In darkness to tread
No they never expected
The winds to change up
The borders to break down
Our spirit to rage
And their rule to falter

We're gonna make it out

Oh I got a reason to believe
