

If You Go

Arid

If you go
I'll never know
Why my heart is set down low
My body yearns, the soul returns
To its sleep now
It's just a goal, how will I know
You don't mind and low don't grow
It's just a turn, my body yearns
For your sleep now

Hey see my face
I've played it all a thousand times
In my mind

And it's you that I want
That I want,
That I want now

If you go
I'll never know
Why my heart is set down low
My body yearns, the soul returns
To its sleep now
It's just a goal, how will I know
You don't mind and low don't grow
It's just a turn, my body yearns
For your sleep now

Save it 'till the morning, when the rise
Becomes the fall

And it's you that I want
That I want,
That I want now
