

Block Capital

Arkarna

One stolen breath within the city falls,
Inhale the future you could have it all,
It's such a nuclear waste but it sees me through,
Don't follow me cause I'm lost too.

These words I scream in silence,
I don't fit this shoe,
With a passion building up inside the bite I could not chew,
It's always something for nothing

I've got a high rise block inside my head,
I hate to state the obvious but nothing is said,
Pollute you lungs and your mind will follow,
Time decays until it's over

These words I scream in silence,
I don't fit this shoe,
With a passion building up inside the bite I could not chew,
It's always something for nothing

Intoxicated sanity,
The fabric of society,
I need someone to stand by me,
What's done is done,
Just let me breathe,
These words I scream in silence,
With a passion building up inside...
