

There's something that I just got to do,
I'm holding out for me and you,
Don't start stoppin now, just let it out,
I give you all that I've got to give,
From head to toe and in my fingertips.
I know I can find what I'm looking for.

Calling out to you, I'll be calling out, calling out to you.

Well I knew it was too good to be true,
What's good for me is not much good to you,
Don't start stopping now, we've come too far,
And I might just be a minute away,
But they only ever want me to stay,
If I keep on I will found what we're looking for.

There's nothing you can tell me,
Cos I already know,
No one's gonna stop me now.

Calling out to you, I'll be calling out, calling out to you.
