

Bulletproof In Baggy Jeans

Army of Freshmen

Well it's me in the middle again
I'm Superman and I'm flying
Take a look at the man of steel
You might feel he's a loser, I don't wanna be cool
G.I. Joe in your backyard
The neighborhood was covered in baseball cards
Picture on the wall of the family
No need to ask which one is me

Cause you can say what you really mean
Cause I'm bulletproof in baggy jeans

I wait in line for you, I wait time after time for you
I wait in line for you, I wait time after time for you
But that's just a song, I always took wrong
I took wrong

Well it's me at the bottom again
I'm Aquaman and I'm drowning
In a kiddie pool that's empty
And it's surf's up as long as you notice me
Thunder Cat in a litter box
Hanging on the boardwalk, burnout jock
I said what I said and I meant what I meant
And I mean what I say one hundred percent

Cause you can say what you really mean
Cause I'm bulletproof in baggy jeans

I wait in line for you, I wait time after time for you
I wait in line for you, I wait time after time for you
But that's just a song, I always took wrong

Open up the womb and walk into the world alone
Growing up is a combat zone
And you open up your mouth, let it out, go and shout
If you fall kid, I WILL BE THERE FOR YOU

Open up the door to the great unknown

I wait in line for you, I wait time after time for you
I wait in line for you, I wait time after time for you
I wait in line for you