Art By Numbers

Under the circumstances we were bound to find a new ambition.
Letting go of this trend without a fascination, there is always unrest.

Take it as a privilege, you'll find your existence.

Undermining what they built is your escape.
Take it and run while you can before ... too late.

I have misinformed you.
I demand your best intentions.
I demand your best intentions.

And there's no telling what's been done, it's just a state of m indless.

I've been around this story too long, can't we find another way to move on?
They're only following tradition, can't we find another way to move on?
They're only following tradition ... follow me.

And I'm doing the best I know I can, but they're taking the mos t from me again.

I'm setting the course ahead.
Few and far and between are etched in stone, but I'll be the fi rst to take a leap of faith.

We played the best of fools, the best of fools.
And we had time to spare.
We played the best of fools, the best of fools.
And we had time to spare.

They're only following tradition, can't we find another way to
move on?
They're only following tradition, can't we find another way?

We played the best of fools, the best of fools.
And we had time to spare.
We played the best of fools, the best of fools.
