

Phoenix Rising

Artension

Awake but you're asleep you're drawn into the light you know it's clear this time, the greatest fear's within your mind

And all your fantasies are real, and now you can see I see a phoenix rising

Does the dark appeal to you, in everything you say and do you should learn the reason why

I know your tears can't hide you as you walk among the night
And all your fantasies are real, and now you can see

I see a Phoenix rising from the ashes, after the fire
Phoenix rising soaring ever higher

Madness never sleeps, withdrawn into your mind sometimes life is unkind as you drift between the lines
And all your fantasies are real, and now you can see

I see a Phoenix rising from the ashes, after the fire
Phoenix rising soaring ever higher
And all your fantasies are real, and now you can see

I see a Phoenix rising from the ashes, after the fire
Phoenix rising soaring ever higher
