

Black Rain

Arthemis

If I watch the past days of my life I can feel winds of war
Everywhere I turn my head I see revenge
Looking at the thin line that was signed between my thoughts
I realize that it disappears, everything's out of control

I feel hate!

The rain has come without a warning but I still don't understand

What's the reason why it's gonna dirt my hand
Now I hear the screams of the man who should be me
And I want to rise again!

It's the time,
Time for me to break the curse
And to stop the Black Rain fall on to my soul
I wanna change the colours of my life
This night I will expect to see the sun

Now your arms are stronger,
And only now you can start a new life,
Through the power of your mind defeat the Evil Sorcerer
But every day you'll pray the Lord your soul to shelter
He will come back... ha ha ha...

And I want to rise again...

It's the time,
Time for me to break the curse
And to stop the Black Rain fall on to my soul
I wanna change the colours of my life
This night I will expect to see the sun
