

Fire, Set Us Free

Arthemis

Confused by the absence of the light we only feel the terror's rise
Condemned to run without a shelter

Your torture kills the men and makes them blind, but don't you feel so satisfied
My hate is gonna rule forever

The flames are burning higher
I'm the Keeper of the Fire
And I'll never sell my soul to you

Your force is an illusion
In my heart I find the reason
To destroy what you believe you've done

There is no escape for you
The Flame will reveal the truth and pulverize your face

Fire, set us free, give us a chance to live
Through the centuries you've left our spirits higher
Don't disguise your power, spread it out... We are set!

Aaaah... Aaaah... Aaaah...

Fire, set us free, give us a chance to live
Through the centuries you've left our spirits higher
Don't disguise your wasting power

Fire, set us free, give us a chance to live
Through the centuries you've left our spirits higher
Eyes of Fire and burning heart, I'll crash and burn
In honour of my soul... I will kill them all!
