Mechanical Plague

Scream words of justice You can scream words of pain In the cyber-world we're livin' It doesn't matter anyway

Violent technologies Are knockin' at your door It's a fight against humanity A fight against the world

Brainwash, cyber-sex It's a mechanical plague Brainwash, cyber-sex It's gonna drive me insane They sell you what they want Comin' through the night Tell them what you need And feel alright You're just another victim Of the things we'll never learn

Running through the mountains You can hide in the deep blue sea Take a look all around you Be a cyborg just like me

No more love and passions They will give you eternal life Don't you think you are invincible And drink their sea of lies Arthemis
