

Awake

Artist vs. Poet

I've forgotten how it feels to feel like I'm home.
'Cause home is where the heart is
and my hearts been sold.
Shackled down in chains
held prisoner by you.
Don't let it escape,
just keep it safe with you.

'Cause it's all that I can do to find a fading piece of mind.
And it's all that I can do to read the space between the lines.
Yeah I'm trying hard to forget all the
colour in your eyes.
You can't say what I can say but
I will love you till I die.

She's breathing beside me
her breath cold and short.
She knows I don't love her
to her great remorse.
And I can tell she's dancing with me in her dream.
But I just can't wake her like you woke me.

'Cause it's all that I can do to find a fading piece of mind.
And it's all that I can do to read the space between the lines.
Yeah I'm trying hard to forget all the
colour in your eyes.
You can't say what I can say but I will love you till I die.

And it's all that I can do to find a fading piece of mind.
And it's all that I can do to read the space between the lines.
Yeah I'm trying not to forget all the
colour in your eyes.
You can't say what I can say but I will love you till I die.
