

Rescue

Artist vs. Poet

I've been trying my best to figure it out
I'm done pretending that I'm doing okay
I sold my soul to the idea that we
Would be better off this way
We had all the conversations
Leading up to all of our frustrations
I'm lost in my place, but in fact
It's enough to drive you away

I'm coming home, only 300 miles away
I thought I was doing just fine,
But you'll be my crutch tonight, woah

You're the only one that can be my rescue (Don't let go)
I won't give up, fed up, you're my only hope, woah
I shouldn't have to use this song to tell you
You're my heartbreak melody, insure this pain inside of me
Distance overwhelming me, I'm lost without you

We both know the times are heavy
I played it back a thousand times in my head
A perfect scene that I want to keep living
It will pay off in the end

I'm coming home, only 200 miles away
I thought I was doing just fine,
But you'll be my crutch tonight, woah

You're the only one that can be my rescue (Don't let go)
I won't give up, fed up, you're my only hope, woah
I shouldn't have to use this song to tell you
You're my heartbreak melody, insure this pain inside of me
Distance overwhelming me, I'm lost without you

I just want to see us through this
'Cause I'm not ready to let you down
(I'm not ready to let you down)
I just want to make this happen
'Cause I'm not ready to see you go, woah

You're the only one that can be my rescue (Don't let go)
I won't give up, fed up, you're my only hope, woah

You're the only one that can be my rescue (Don't let go)
I won't give up, fed up, you're my only hope, woah
I shouldn't have to use this song to tell you
You're a heartbreak melody, insure this pain inside of me
Distance overwhelming me, I'm lost without you
