

Sail Away

Artist vs. Poet

When it all comes down,
To the fact of the matter,
Happily ever after, with you.
I just wanna make it count,
Every day, every minute,
Every word, every sentence, with you.

Before our hair turns gray,
Why don't we sail away?
'Cause we've been stuck here, stuck here for too long.
I could find you a home, we could make it our own.
'Cause it all falls into place,
Every time I see your face.
Ohhh

I see the fire in your eyes,
Like the sun as it's setting,
And I'm set on forgetting, the cold.
There's better weather where we're heading,
Shedding light on the dark days,
And the roads they're all paved, with gold.

Before our hair turns gray,
Why don't we sail away?
'Cause we've been stuck here, stuck here for too long.
I could find you a home, we could make it our own.
'Cause it all falls into place,
Every time I see your face.
'Cause it all falls into place,
Every time I see your face.

And I dream of the day,
That you come into my life and make everything,
Okay.
Okay.

'Cause it all falls into place,
Yeah it all falls!

'Cause it all falls into place,
Every time I see your face.
'Cause it all falls into place,
Every time I see your face.
