

The Remedy

Artist vs. Poet

And it's a shame
If you can't wait around anymore
I ain't playing no games or keeping score
'Cause I want it all
Through the good and
The bad and the happy
And sad or not at all
You broke my heart of stone

And I just wanna know
If ya ever feel alone
'cause I would like to be
Your remedy believe in me

I remember the day that we stood in the rain
And you told me that you loved me
I remember the time that we wrote forever in the sand
I remember the morning we fought and you drove back
Just to tell me you're sorry

'Cause we had it all
Through the thick and the thin the lies and the sin
But we lost it all
To our hearts of stone

And I just wanna know
If ya ever feel alone
'Cause I would like to be
Your remedy believe in me

And I wish I could make
You see how much you mean to me
Then maybe I could be your remedy

Oh and we both know
That you're not leaving this way

And I just wanna know
If ya ever feel alone
'Cause I would like to be
Your remedy believe in me

And I wish I could make
You see how much you mean to me
Then maybe I could be
Then maybe I could be your remedy
Then maybe I could be your remedy
