

Wait For You

Artist vs. Poet

So you can find me locked up tight in my room tonight
I'm reading warning signs, rewriting all my lines
I won't be giving up, 'till you're giving in girl

But you won't take my hand...

So I'll be asking you,
How high when you tell me to jump
And I'll say how fast when you tell me to run
And I'll say how long when you tell me to wait for you
And that's what I'm gonna do.

And as the room is flooded in bare moonlight
We're dreaming all the time, when I can call you mine
I won't be giving up, 'till you're giving in

But you won't take my hand...

So I'll be asking you,
How high when you tell me to jump
And I'll say how fast when you tell me to run
And I'll say how long when you tell me to wait for you
And that's what I'm gonna do.

Don't say, say that you're still afraid
'Cause your lips give you away
And your body does the same
So I'll be asking you...

How high when you tell me to jump
And I'll say how fast when you tell me to run
And I'll say how long when you tell me to wait for you
'Cause that's what I'll do...

How high when you tell me to jump
And I'll say how fast when you tell me to run
And I'll say how long when you tell me to wait for you
And that's what I'm gonna do.

Yeah oh oh oh
And that's what I'm gonna do.
