

Rainsong

Arven

Autumn leaves are falling to the ground
My heartbeat is the only sound around

Sunlight plays hide and seek with clouds
Drops of rain start to fall and sing aloud

Dap da da dap dap, dap da da dap dap da
The rain goes down on your window
Dap da da dap dap, dap da da dap dap da
The rain goes down on your window pane

Standing still I gaze into the distance
Far away there's someone who thinks of me

Dap da da dap dap, dap da da dap dap da
The rain goes down on your window
Dap da da dap dap, dap da da dap dap da
The rain goes down on your window
Dap da da dap dap, dap da da dap dap da
The rain goes down on your window
Dap da da dap dap, dap da da dap dap da
The rain goes down on your window pane

Dap da da dap dap, dap da da dap dap da
The rain goes down on your window
Dap da da dap dap, dap da da dap dap da
The rain goes down on your window
Dap da da dap dap, dap da da dap dap da
The rain goes down on your window
Dap da da dap dap, dap da da dap dap da
The rain goes down on your window

One hundred tiny raindrops tell the story of their journey
One hundred tiny raindrops tell their colourful story
One hundred tiny raindrops tell the story of their journey
One hundred tiny raindrops bring gentle kisses from my beloved
