

The Beautiful Mistake

As Blood Runs Black

I looked into the eyes of a broken heart pride that's made of stone!

Why am I destroyed by love what made yourself so cold? Is it the darkness which covers yourself black? This isn't the girl I know who stabbed me in the back. Facing you, your words like a gun, one shot when you speak, so pull the trigger and aim it at me. I'm stuck in the middle of a cross fire, breaking me down is what you desire. I won't let you. So my soul will seek, inside of me, my true self and what I believe. what's to become of ourselves has this love lost its meaning? You showed me the way to love, and I came about, then you stole my heart then left me! I'm waiting for the day to come that you'll save me! So my soul will seek, inside of me, my true self and what I believe. what's to become of ourselves, has this love lost its meaning? Pushed to the edge of this world, this is why I can't love! the moment I hope you'll come rescue me! I will fall in love with you. Take me away with you. take me away with you! Suicide in my mind can't change. I can't live without you!
