

Bitter, Broken Me

As It Is

Tell me again
Tell me every way I failed you,
Tell me everything
Everything you think but never dare to speak.
Compared to you, I'm a statue
That everyone sees through.
If no one else would miss me,
Then I'd like to think you would.

This dependency,
Will shatter me.
Bitter, broken me.
If you're the rain
Then I'm a window pane,
The one you'll touch before (touch before)
You leave another day.

You kill me.
I'll reconstruct myself to love your pain.
I'm screaming at myself,
'Cause I can't bring myself to scream your name.
If I'm insane,
Then you're the same,
A hopeless case.
I'm still the skin you shed,
The fact you read.
I'm just the way you found me.

This dependency,
Will shatter me,
Bitter, broken me.
If you're the rain,
I'm a window pane,
The one you'll touch before (touch before),
You leave another day.

You're ever so sweet,
You're everything I know I don't deserve at all.
You're ever so sweet,
You're everything I dream about and live another day for.

I'd like to think,
That you,
That you would miss me.
I'd like to think,
You're my favourite lie.

This dependency,
Will shatter me.
Bitter, broken me.
If you're the rain,
I'm a window pane,
The one you'll touch before,
You leave another day.
