

Right Death Before

ASG

God speaks his love through splits in tongues white light come forth right death before you go breathe again
and smile for the first time
you go breathe again
and smile for the first time
white light come forth right death before
you go breathe again
and smile for the first time
you go breathe again
and smile for the first time