

Neon

Ash

The faint glimmer of the stars
The entrance of the night
Shadows fill my heart
The moon is on the rise
Yearning with desire
To feel a spark inside
Illuminate this void
Set the stars alight

In the air tonight
Feel it come alive
In the city lights I won't feel alone
When you hurt inside
When you wonder why
Leave it all behind
In the afterglow that follows

Do you believe in fate?
A hand that guides your way
Voices calling you
Secrets that await
Moments that define
And change the course of your life
Forces that conspire
Suddenly align

In the air tonight
Feel it come alive
In the city lights I won't feel alone
When you hurt inside
When you wonder why
Leave it all behind
In the afterglow
It could change your life
If our stars collide
If you do not try will never know
Feel your spirit rise
Feel the fire inside
See it in your eyes
Who knows where we'll be tomorrow

Chaos on the inside
Momentary landslide
Seconds slow to half time
Lightning runs through my mind
Standing in a spotlight
Locking onto your eyes
Suddenly I realise
I don't have to think twice
As the world falls away

In the air tonight
Feel it come alive
In the city lights I won't feel alone
When you hurt inside
When you wonder why
Leave it all behind

In the afterglow
It could change your life
If our stars collide
Feel your spirit rise
Feel the fire inside
See it in your eyes
Who knows where we'll be tomorrow
