

Summer Snow

Ash

Oh I loved you in the sun, in the light of day
What has become of my chosen one?
Season's end, killing time
Unlike everyone
They go walking by
Having their fun
Don't give up without a fight
I want to hear you say
You can overcome, you are the one

Ashes scattered on the breeze
Swirling like summer snow
Came to be so suddenly
Changing everything I know

Your eyes seem so pure
They're crystalline
Secrets untold
Translucent stone
You are in another place
In a distant state
A feeling so strange
Too far away

Ashes scattered on the breeze
Swirling like summer snow
Came to be so suddenly
Changing everything I know

Ashes scattered on the breeze
Swirling like summer snow
Came to be so suddenly
Changing everything I know

Our time is so short
Faster than you know
Fading in the sun
Like summer snow
