

Sinking Beneath

Ashent

Gasping water's rising will I ever make it through?
Lost in seas of anger it engulfs my point of view Grasping, searching for the answers to the questions of your soul Pressure builds all around me as it spins out of control Sleepless nights they ever torment when you're faced with your regrets Hear the screams of silence as we face the final rest

Are we destined to drift alone
on this endless sea?
Hearts full of vengeance
now tell of the outcome of this will be

We all long to find shelter from the storm
No one knows where we went wrong
I need to sail away
from a world that poisoned me
I'm now changing the man I used to be Oh, what's happening to me?

Searching for an outstretched land we slowly sink beneath the sand Oh, we face a brand new day Unending chaos fades to gray as we find the truth within us

Are we destined to drift alone
on this endless sea?
Hearts full of vengeance
now tell of the outcome of this will be

We all long to find shelter from the storm
No one knows where we went wrong
I need to sail away
from a world that poisoned me
I'm now changing the man I used to be
Whatever happened to me?
Whatever happened to me?
