

Inside My Head

Lane, Asher

Is it wise enough to say
That I'm better off without you
Is it cool enough to fake
Cause all that I've been thinking is about you
And all that I've been doing's without you
Is it you inside my head
Is it you inside who says
That I've become someone else
On and on my mind keeps saying
This is not what I believe in
This is where it ends
And on and on my mind's messed up
That is why it never stops
Alone again, I'm alone again
Is it you inside my head
Is it you inside who says
That I've become someone else
Is it you inside my head
Is it you inside who says
That i've become someone else
I didn't know that you're coming right through inside my head
I didn't know that you're breaking right through inside my head
I didn't know that you're coming right through
I didn't know that you're coming right through
I didn't know, I didn't know
How could I know?
Is it you inside my head
Is it you inside who says
Is it you inside my head?
