

Room For A King

Ashes Remain

On a night, long ago,
So tired and weary on an endless road,
Baby boy, on the way,
The Healer of Heaven with no place to stay.

The burden was heavy and the journey so long,
But Joseph and Mary found strength to hold on.

He is all we need,
Let's make room for a King.
He is all we need,
Let's make room for a King.

Here today, it's all the same,
We're given so much and we throw it away,
Why don't we turn around,
Redemption has come, let the whole world be found.

The burden is heavy and the journey so long,
We must keep the faith and we must carry on.

He is all we need,
Let's make room for a King.
He is all we need,
Let's make room for a King.

It's a long way, a long way.
Redemption has come, let the whole world be found.

He is all we need,
Let's make room for a King.
He is all we need,
Let's make room for a King.
