I'm not tryin' to start anything by comin' up to you tonight
I know that he's yours now it's sinkin' in with time
But tonight I've had to much to drink
And he stays on my mind
I just wanted to say he's the best thing you'll ever find

'Cause he ain't your regular Joe ya know and I'm the crazy fool who let him go and if he says he loves you then thats what he means he's the best man I've ever seen I just wanted you to know He ain't your regular Joe

She turned to me sharply and said you think I don't know that I can't believe you even spoke to me what nerve you must have I said no you don't understand you don't wanna be in my shoes It took him leavin' me before I ever knew

That he ain't your regular joe you know? and I'm the crazy fool that let him go and if he says he loves you then thats what he means He's the best man I've ever seen I just wanted you to know he ain't your regular joe

So she drove home from that bar to say that She was sorry to him She was wrong to have stormed out to go Somewhere she shouldn't have been

He said hey baby that's okay Everybody has their days That's when she turned to him to say

You ain't your regular joe,
You know?
And I don't ever plan to let you go
Cause when I say I love you
Then that's what I mean
You're the best man I've ever seen
Oh baby, I love you so
You ain't your regular joe