

Seven Seas

At Vance

once upon a time he was born into a family growin with the right to fight when he became a man he felt the strong desire to satisfy his restless soul headin for tomorrow he followed up his heart but the only thing he found was war and hate so he took all of his pride and started his adventure towards foreign countries into no man's land disbelieve could not make him strong enough always on his neverending search for the truth

friends he could not find hate and fear was all he got still he is on his way

sailing on the seven seas searchin for my destiny travellin all around the world always on his lonely search for the truth

so the years passed by and he became more wise knowin all about the uncovered mysteries by the time he realized that he's been runnin 'round in circles didn't care for the things that he should have kept

disbelieve could not make him strong enough
always on his neverending search for the truth

friends he could not find
hate and fear was all he got
still he is on his way

sailing on the seven seas
searchin for my destiny
travellin all around the world still can't find the truth in me

[Solo]

friends he could not find
hate and fear was all he got
still he is on his way

sailing on the seven seas
searchin for my destiny
travellin all around the world
still can't find the truth in me far beyond the distant sky nowhere near but he couldn't denie headin towards his wildest dreams
always on his lonely search
for the truth.....