Comets (Nova I)

Atargatis

A burning nova in far spheres expands and burns Out of the inner core and sending comets through the skies Shot with flaming trail

Boundlessly they rush through the spheres and enter earth The atmosphere ablaze with massive fireballs That crush into the ocean tides

Nova comets burst the sea
Earth crust burning, waters steam
Nova comets burst the sea
Waters flooding irresistibly

Come, drift into the wonder
Into the last shining of the light
Come, drift into the coldness
Into the silent eternal night

A burning nova in far spheres expands and burns The atmosphere ablaze with massive fireballs That crush into the ocean tides

Waters invade the seashore life and territy Creatures on their run from the invasion in their realm But in vain
