Feel Alive

You've killed my days, my innermost State of mind, so don't stay close I am back through all the highs and lows

No more belief in chemicals So pack your things, you'd better go There'll be no regrets, so little do you know

I feel, I feel so alive Meet me at the station or maybe in another life I feel, I feel so alive There'll be no more drifting back and forth in time

Another day, another life To feed with all that I call mine Is what it takes, so I go out tonight

Shining lights of crossing cars An open sky, a million stars They open up my eyes and this is just because

I feel, I feel so alive Meet me at the station or maybe in another life I feel, I feel so alive There'll be no more drifting back and forth in time

I'll take it slow I feel so alive I'll turn back time

Another day, another life To feed with all that I call mine Is what it takes, so I go out tonight

I feel, I feel so alive There'll be no more drifting

I feel, I feel so alive Meet me at the station, or maybe in another life I feel, I feel so alive There'll be no more drifting back and fortn in time I feel